RUN No. 2577 171 West Tamar H'way Trevally Hare: Sheila

Run Report:

Back to back runs from Sheila's with most believing the latest would be a carbon copy or perhaps a reversal of the previous week's encounter. No smoking fire to greet arriving Hashers; the acrid smoke replaced by the putrid stench of the rotting carcass that had only just been collected by the faceless man from some government or council authority that collects dead things off the road. The effluvium of entrails and oozing juices remain as a reminder of last week's calamity.

No fire as Sheila was completing some running repairs on the rocket pot after the previous inferno had burnt the flue clean away from its attachment. It was now turned upside down and reattached with impact driven shed-mates. A feeble attempt at lighting the fire resulted in just as feeble sledging and abuse being hurled at Sheila; mainly suggesting to wait for the expert pyromaniac skills of Tiles and to find a decent electrician to install bbq lighting. Sheila chose to send the amassed Hashers and fucking hilarious hecklers on there way so he could light the rocket without their help.

The run was brand new and shared no similarities with the previous week, except for the starting point at Skippy X which was on last weeks home straight. About 5 km, 1 hour, no hills and heading south should have given an indication where the On Home would be. Wending a way through the hillside, crossing council boundaries several times all trails and hashings led to a check in the Trevallyn Shopping Centre roundabout. Why anyone would look anywhere but Bain Terrace south is a mystery to to Intelligent Hashers (I think that's an oxymoron) as everybody should deduct where the On Home is going to be. There would be no disappointment. Late comer Sparrow took a wrong turn along the way and ran to the Country Club Casino, realising his error he returned to to rejoin the main pack heading home into the Hydro Easement.

ON ON:

Back at the OnOn mood lighting had switched in, the rocket pot was impersonating a nuclear reactor, and in so, silencing the hecklers of earlier. Faultless team work within the new committee sees Sheila covering for Bend Over as tonight's lip; opening with an amusing story of One Hump's medical consultation. 4 prizes in the Monks raffle! Its amazing what a new Monk can do still procuring salubrious prizes, this week Boong picking up the six pack Deep Shit gardening gloves Sparra a stubby holder and Delly a gardening gadget for Elaine. Only a couple of on Downs this weel Sheila the Hare, Inlet getting chased by a tiger snake at the weekend and last is Thumbs the Dutch man for been the top AFL tipster this week. Next week we are at the Boags Brewey visitors centre it has been rumoured it is a combined event with the Tamar Valley Masters Hash Group only time will tell. Be there on time or we will start without you kick off time is 6:30 Pm

Joke of the week

A mother was teaching his child about the side-effects of alcohol. She gets two short glasses, filling one with water and the other with whiskey. She says "I want you to see this." She puts a worm in the water, and it swims around. She puts a worm in the whiskey, and the worm dies immediately. She then says, feeling that she has made her point clear, "what do you have to say about this experiment?" The child responds by saying: "If I drink whiskey, I won't get worms!"

Walking into the bar, Mike said to Charlie the bartender... "Pour me a stiff one – just had another fight with the little woman." "Oh yeah?" said Charlie "And how did this one end?" "When it was over," Mike replied, "she came to me on her hands and knees." "Really," said Charles, "now that's a switch! What did she say?" "She said, 'Come out from under the bed, you little chicken.'"

A man walks into a bar, after buying a beer he looks around the bar and sees three men and a dog playing cards. Amazed, the man wanders over and starts watching the game. After watching the game for ten minutes, the man leans over to one of the other player's and whispers "Wow, that's a really smart dog!". The man whispers back "He isn't that smart, every time he gets a good hand, he wags his tail!"

THE ASS END OF THE TRASH
